National Library Card Sign-up!

September is National Library Card Sign-Up Month! In the Digital Age, it may seem like the need for public libraries is dwindling. This, however, is far from accurate. There are more reasons than ever for why you should have a library card in the 21st century, and we've listed just a handful below:

Libraries are a magical place to explore. You never know where you'll go, what you'll discover, or how you'll be inspired during a trip to the library.

A library card unlocks endless digital content. Are you tired of scrolling endlessly through social media? Using your library's digital content can help you spend your free time in a more productive way.

In addition, Libraries preserve democracy. They celebrate and preserve our democratic society by making available the widest possible range of viewpoints, opinions and ideas, so that everyone has the opportunity to become lifelong learners.

Local libraries are truly a wonderful resource that every member in the community should utilize, but if nothing else, using your local library is a great way cut costs at home. Use #LibraryCardSignUpMonth in your social media correspondence. —

BOOK REVIEW: Hardly Haunted by Jessie Sima

Have you ever seen an empty house and wondered why no one lives there? This house is thinking about that same question. She has plenty of space to share even if it's a little drafty and sometimes sounds like a wolf is howling. Her bones are good even if they are a little creaky and like to make noises at night. And none of her windows are broken even if that old tree likes to scratch at the side. So why doesn't a family like to live in her? This picture book is a great campfire read for drawing out the words and making things a little spooky. The dark but friendly faces in the pictures and the long font will entice children to pay attention to the story without keeping them up at night. — Erin Streeter, Children's Librarian
