Author Book Signing! Meet Tom Roy!

Local author and coach, Tom Roy is the founder of Unlimited Potential, Inc. (UPI), a ministry to professional baseball players. Tom’s book “Shepherd Coach” was recently published and he will be doing a book signing at WCPL, February 9, 2019 from 10:00 am – noon. The books will be available for $15. There are few titles as honored as "Coach." Players often take on the attitudes and swagger they see in a coach. Coaches are leaders, role models and authority figures all rolled into one. Receiving such a title is one thing... measuring up to the accolade is another. This book attempts to help us all become better at our honored position of "Christian Coach" by examining our calling, motives, and processes. The workbook asks questions and gives ideas that will help us lead the men and women in a way that models how Jesus would define "winning." Tom has been a voice in major league baseball for almost 4 decades. He served as a head high school baseball coach as well as having 15 years coaching experience as a pitching and head coach at the college level. — Denise Keller

“The Death of Mrs. Westaway” by Ruth Ware : a book review

Are you a fan of mysteries? The Death of Mrs. Westaway is the story of Hal—a girl grieving the loss of her mother, friendless, broke, and in debt to a murderous loan shark. When all hope seems lost, she receives a letter saying that her grandmother died and may have left her an inheritance. The catch is that Hal's grandparents have been dead for years. Desperate and fearing for her life, she takes the opportunity for quick cash and decides to fake her way into the inheritance. She travels to the family mansion and gets embroiled in the mysteries of the foreboding manor.

Ruth Ware is very good at the slow build while keeping the mystery intact. I was never certain about the ending. I kept having inklings, but then Ware would send me in a different direction. The imagery in it is fantastic. Ware paints Trepassee (the mansion) and its grounds in very foreboding and creepy tones. I could just imagine it as I read, and towards the end got chills. There is something delightful about a dusty, dark, mansion that feeds into the mystery so well. If you are a fan of Daphne du Maurier's novel Rebecca, you may devour The Death of Mrs. Westaway. Pick it up, settle in a cozy chair, and get swept away. — Michelle Parker
Reading Challenge Club Starting in February

The Warsaw Community Public Library will be starting a new adult book club in February. This club will have a different flare than normal book clubs. We are calling this the Reading Challenge because we will be challenged to read a book along the lines of the given topic. For instance, in the Month of February, the topic is “A BOOK YOU CHOSE FOR THE COVER”. Everyone will be asked to read a book along that topic and come to the meeting to have a sit down discussion about the book you chose and why. What was learned from reading the book, would you recommend the book? By doing this type of club, we hope to expand your reading choices outside of the box. Some challenges will take you out of the “comfort zone” of your normal reading habits/preferences and give you the opportunity to read a variety of books. Our first meeting will be February 12, 2019 from 6pm-7:30pm. We will introduce ourselves and have our discussions and chose the next topic for the following month. We ask that you please register online or at the information desk at the library prior to the first meeting. We will meet the second Tuesday of each month from 6pm-7:30pm. If you should have any questions about the club, please be sure to contact the library.
Friends of the Library Love-A-Book Café & “Blind Date with a Book” February 14

Friends of the Library is hosting the Love-a-Book Cafe and mid-size book sale on Valentine's Day this year, Thursday, February 14, 10:00 am – 2:00 pm. Featured will be “Blind Date with a Book”; each purchase will have a “Rate Your Date” slip. Entries need to be turned in by March 30. The winner of “Blind Date with a Book” receives a free one year FOL membership and a box of chocolates and will be announced at the April 1 meeting.

The book sale will contain romance, of course, mystery/suspense, sci-fi, cookbooks, audio books, music, movies and children's, just to name a handful of subjects! Linger for a coffee or hot chocolate and a sweet treat. Cinnamon rolls and scones will be offered. Donations will be accepted in our Cafe. Other surprises may entice you to spend time with the Friends on Valentine's Day at the library!
